OLD DOMINION
CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, INC.

Anyone can call himself or herself a “financial planner.” Only those who have fulfilled certification and renewal requirements of the CFP® Board can display the CFP® certification marks. CFP® professionals are held to strict ethical standards to ensure financial planning recommendations are in your best interest. What’s more, a CFP® professional must acquire three years of experience related to delivering financial planning services to clients and pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Exam before they can call themselves a CFP® professional.

When selecting a financial planner, you need to feel confident that the person you choose to help you plan for your future is competent and ethical. The CFP® certification provides that sense of security by allowing only those who meet the aforementioned requirements the right to use the CFP® certification marks.

Old Dominion Capital Management has a very strong team of CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNERS™, compliance partners, and client service teammates ready to help you take the stress out of your finances.

RISKS AND OTHER IMPORTANT CONSIDERATIONS

Old Dominion Capital Management, Inc. (“ODCM”) is an SEC-registered investment adviser. This document does not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to purchase any security or investment product or service nor shall it be construed or relied upon as providing any type of investment, legal, tax or other advice. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

The views and opinions expressed here are for informational and educational purposes only as of the date of writing and may change at any time based on market or other conditions and may not come to pass.

This material is not intended to be relied upon as investment advice or recommendations, does not constitute a solicitation to buy or sell securities and should not be considered specific legal, investment or tax advice. The information provided does not consider the specific objectives, financial situation, or needs of any specific person. All investments carry a certain degree of risk and there is no assurance that an investment will provide positive performance over any period. Equity investments are subject to market risk or the risk that stocks will decline in response to such factors as adverse company news or industry developments or a general economic decline. Debt or fixed income securities are subject to market risk, credit risk, interest rate risk, call risk, tax risk, political and economic risk, and income risk. As interest rates rise, bond prices fall. Noninvestment-grade bonds involve heightened credit risk, liquidity risk, and potential for default. Foreign investing involves additional risks, including currency fluctuation, political and economic instability, lack of liquidity and differing legal and accounting standards. These risks are magnified in emerging markets.

INDEX PERFORMANCE DISCLOSURES

No investor can invest directly into a passive index. Investors should be aware that you cannot achieve the returns shown because an actual account will incur operating and management expenses from its investment and possibly advisory, custodial and/or record keeping expenses. The performance returns sampled here do not represent the impact that material economic and market factors might have on an investor’s decision making process if the investor were invested in the market. The calculation of performance differs from actual account performance because the investment strategy may be adjusted by a client at any time for any reasons. The performance returns sampled here reflect the reinvestment of dividends and other distributions. Third party sources collect the data from financial institutions and related types of entities that created the indices and publish the indices values periodically. The third-party sources then calculate performance used in this document. All data is believed to be reliable but is not independently verified by ODCM.
